Ice Displacement Factor is the ratio of fluid ounces not displaced by ice based on the ice assumptions selected. For example, selecting hard ice that is filling 1/3 of the cup will use a displacement factor of 0.83. A 10 ounce cup with 0.83 ice displacement will show nutrient values for 8.3 fluid ounces.

The default value of 2.96 mg per 1 fluid ounces of sodium in the water used in calculations represents the highest level of sodium in water used in our bottling facilities. The USDA National Nutrient Database for Standard Reference Release 26 has a value of 1 mg sodium per fluid ounces of municipal water.
